The Library as Classroom Focus of Second Library 2.016 Worldwide Virtual Conference.

San Jose State University School of Information is proud to offer professional development opportunities. like the Library 2.0 Worldwide Virtual Conference series as part of our lifelong learning solutions. The next Library 2.016 mini-conference will take place on June 15, 2016, from 12:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Pacific Daylight Time via Blackboard Collaborate web conferencing.

Moderated by Dr. Michael Stephens, assistant professor at iSchool, the June conference will open with a panel discussion on "Defining the Library as Classroom." For example, this classroom may include physical spaces for instruction and discovery, as well as online, multi-scale platforms aimed at social learning and participation. Registration is free, and all registrants will receive links to view the recorded sessions. Register today!
